BAD FAITH

PROCEDURAL FACTORS

The Panel is satisfied that all procedural requirements under UDRP were met and there is no other reason why it would be inappropriate to provide a decision.

PRINCIPAL REASONS FOR THE DECISION

Identity (paragraph 4(a)(i) of the Policy)

The Panel finds that the disputed domain name <boursogroup.com> is confusingly similar to the Complainant’s BOURSO trademark. Firstly, the Complainant’s BOURSO trademark is incorporated in the disputed domain name in its entirety. Secondly, in the Panel’s opinion, the mere addition of the generic word “group” does not prevent the similarity between the Complainant’s trademarks and the aforementioned disputed domain name as it refers to the Complainant’s business entity or conglomerate. Thus, the Panel finds that disputed domain name is confusing and does not provide additional specification or sufficient distinction from the Complainant or its mark.

Absence of Rights or Legitimate Interests (paragraph 4(a)(ii) of the Policy).

The Complainant asserted that the Respondent has never been granted a license, or any other way been authorized, in order to register the disputed domain name <boursogroup.com>. In addition, the Respondent never sought the consent of the Complainant in order to register the aforementioned disputed domain name. Consequently, the Respondent lacks any right or legitimate interest in using the disputed domain name. Furthermore, the disputed domain name redirected to an authentication page where internet users could enter personal information in order to log in. As email servers were configured, this may constitute a phishing scheme aimed to mislead internet users into providing confidential information. Additionally, a few days after the Complaint was submitted, the disputed domain name redirected to a new website related to the banking services and displaying the Complainant’s logo. Therefore, the Panel finds that use of the domain name for illegal activity, here claimed phishing and impersonation, cannot confer rights or legitimate interests on the Respondent.

Bad Faith (paragraph 4(a)(iii) of the Policy).

In the present case, the Panel notes that given the trademark’s distinctiveness, renown, and the composition of the disputed domain name, the Respondent was likely aware of the Complainant’s trademark rights at the time of registration. Such awareness is indicative of bad faith registration. Furthermore, it seems that the Respondent has registered the disputed domain name for the sole purpose of misleading users as part of a phishing scheme to fraudulently obtain internet users’ private personal information. Indeed, the disputed domain name initially redirected to a login page where internet users could enter personal information in order to access the website. Moreover, MX servers are configured, which suggests that it may be actively used for phishing purpose. After submitting its Complaint, the disputed domain name redirected to a new website related to the Complainant’s field of activity, namely the banking services, and displaying the Complainant’s logo. To the Panel’s opinion, this shows that the disputed domain name was registered and is being used in bad faith.

FOR ALL THE REASONS STATED ABOVE, THE COMPLAINT IS Accepted

AND THE DISPUTED DOMAIN NAME(S) IS (ARE) TO BE
