The disputed domain name was registered on November 11, 2024 and it currently resolves to an inactive webpage, while it was

PRINCIPAL REASONS FOR THE DECISION

The Complainant has, to the satisfaction of the Panel, shown the disputed domain name is identical or confusingly similar to a trademark or service mark in which the Complainant has rights (within the meaning of paragraph 4(a)(i) of the Policy).

The disputed domain name <novartisegypt.com> is confusingly similar to the trademark “NOVARTIS”, as the addition of the geographical name EGYPT is quite irrelevant and not sufficient to escape such finding; on the contrary, since the Complainant has both a current business activity and legitimate earlier registered rights in Egypt, such addition will actually increase the confusing similarity.

The Complainant has, to the satisfaction of the Panel, shown the Respondent to have no rights or legitimate interests in respect of the disputed domain name (within the meaning of paragraph 4(a)(ii) of the Policy).

According to the WIPO case No. D2003-0455, Croatia Airlines d. d. v. Modern Empire Internet Ltd., the Complainant is required to make out a prima facie case that the Respondent lacks rights or legitimate interests. Once such prima facie case is made, the Respondent carries the burden of demonstrating rights or legitimate interests in the domain name. If the Respondent fails to do so, the Complainant is deemed to have satisfied paragraph 4(a) (ii) of the Policy.

In the case at hand, the Respondent is not affiliated with the Complainant nor authorized by it in any way to use the trademark “NOVARTIS”. The Complainant does not carry out any activity for, nor has any business with the Respondent. The disputed domain name is parked: therefore, the Respondent did not make any use of disputed domain name since its registration, and it confirms that Respondent has no demonstrable plan to use the disputed domain name. It demonstrates a lack of legitimate interests in respect of the disputed domain name.

The Respondent did not provide any reply to the Complaint in order to support its reasons for having registered the disputed domain name and - after having received a C&D letter from the Complainant - it simply argued that it was registered "for academic and non-commercial purposes", without substantiating such statement with any evidence.

The Panel believes that the Respondent has no rights or legitimate interests to the disputed domain name <novartisegypt.com>.

The Panel finds that the Complainant successfully submitted prima facie evidence that the Respondent has made no use of, or demonstrable preparations to use, of the disputed domain name neither in connection with a bona fide offering of goods or services, nor is making a legitimate non-commercial or fair use of the disputed domain name.

Given the distinctiveness of the Complainant's trademark and reputation, it is reasonable to infer that the Respondent has registered the domain name with full knowledge of the Complainant's trademark "NOVARTIS". See for instance WIPO Case No. D2004-0673, Ferrari S.p.A v. American Entertainment Group Inc.

Furthermore, as the disputed domain name currently resolves to an inactive webpage, it is actually not possible to conceive of any plausible actual or contemplated active use of the domain name by the Respondent that would not be illegitimate, such as by being a passing off, an infringement of consumer protection legislation, or an infringement of the Complainant's rights under trademark law.

In any case, also the previous redirect of the disputed domain name toward a parking page with PPC links clearly was a use aimed at attracting Internet users for commercial gain by creating a likelihood of confusion with the Complainant's trademark "NOVARTIS" as to the sources, sponsorship, affiliation, or endorsement of the aforementioned PPC page.

In the absence of real evidence in the merits of the case from the Respondent and given the reputation of the Complainant and its trademarks, the Panel infers that the Respondent had the Complainant's trademarks "NOVARTIS" in mind when registering the disputed domain name. Consequently, the Panel believes that the same was registered and is being used in bad faith.

FOR ALL THE REASONS STATED ABOVE, THE COMPLAINT IS Accepted

AND THE DISPUTED DOMAIN NAME(S) IS (ARE) TO BE

- 1. novartisegypt.com: Transferred
