Experience with respect to IP / domain names

I bring more than 30 years of experience in the field of intellectual property law, having worked extensively on a wide range of IP matters including trademark disputes, copyright infringement cases, and trade secret protection. I also have extensive experience in privacy law.

In the field of domain names, I have been working as an arbitrator since 2002, the date of my first appointment, which has allowed me to have a general and evolving vision of the sector through collaboration with different resolution centers.
